UNIVERSITÀ CATTOLICA del Sacro Cuore

International Ph.D. in Criminology

Cycle XXXVIII

01. WHO WE ARE

VISION

The vision of the International Ph.D. Programme in Criminology is to be the programme of choice for highly qualified students seeking an advanced research degree in Criminology. The Programme views interdisciplinary work and research as the core of its activity. Its aim is to promote innovative and dynamic thinking by blending theory and practice in the fields of criminology, criminal justice, and crime prevention.

MISSION

The Ph.D. prepares graduates to meet traditional and emerging standards of excellence in criminology. This is achieved through a specially-designed training, research, and teaching programme. Graduates taking part in the Programme will be able to pursue careers in academia, research, law enforcement, international organizations, industry, or consulting.

TRANSCRIME

Transcrime, the Research Centre on Transnational Crime of the Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore of Milan (www.transcrime.it/en), offers an integrated group of strengths and capabilities in criminology and criminal justice. Ph.D. candidates will be given the opportunity to carry out their assignments in a stimulating environment enriched by the participation of outstanding lecturers with leading roles in academia, institutions, law enforcement agencies, and businesses renowned at a national, European and international level.

Its excellence in research is proved by the consistent international funding in this area (projects under the 6th and the 7th Framework Programme, Horizon 2020, Horizon Europe, and DG Home Affairs).

Today Transcrime is an international point of reference for scholars investigating crime from criminological, sociological, legal, and economic perspectives. Agreements with associated universities, and with members of the Academic Board, pave the way for specialised research and offer promising possibilities of entry into research or other professions where in-depth knowledge of this field is required.

04. STRENGTHS OF THE PH.D.

ENGLISH

All the activities of the Ph.D. are in English. This includes lectures, seminars, the Ph.D. thesis and the final defense.

PERIOD ABROAD

Ph.D. candidates may spend a period of study and research abroad in a foreign university or a research institution. In recent years, our Ph.D students spent a semester in one of the following universities or institutions: Carnegie Mellon University, European University Saint Petersburg, Europol, George Mason University, Organization of American States, New York University, University of California, University of Colorado Boulder, University of Maryland, University of South Florida, Universiteit Leiden e Vrije Universiteit .

DOCTOR EUROPAEUS

Ph.D. candidates who successfully complete a period of study and research abroad, in one of the partner universities, may be awarded the additional title of Doctor Europaeus.

DIRECT INVOLVEMENT

Ph.D. candidates who have been awarded scholarships in Transcrime research activities will be directly involved in carrying them out . Ph.D. candidates will participate in international and national research projects, and will assist with their organization and management.

04. STRENGTHS OF THE PH.D.

INTERNATIONAL PROFESSORS AND RESEARCHERS

The members of the Academic Board who lecture and tutor in the Ph.D. Programme are key international professors and researchers in criminology and related disciplines.

PRIVATE AND PUBLIC FUNDINGS

The International Ph.D. Programme in Criminology has always received scholarships from public and private bodies, in addition to those awarded by universities. In particular, private companies such as ADT, Crime&tech Srl, Eni Corporate University, Gucci, Philip Morris International, Pirelli, TIM and Telecom Italia, associated universities such as the University of Teramo, and public institutions such as the High Commission for the Struggle against Counterfeiting, Regione Lombardia, and the autonomous Province of Trento award - or have previously awarded - additional scholarships.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

Candidates awarded the International Ph.D. in Criminology can access to career opportunities in the academic world, public and private sector, NGOs and international organizations. International Ph.D. in Criminology graduates are currently working at: University of Cardiff, University of Surrey, UNIL-Université de Lausanne, Università degli Studi Milano-Bicocca, Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore di Milano, Italian Government, the foreign ministry of the Federal Republic of Germany, United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, European Commission, Eurojust, Louis Vuitton, PWC, SNAM, Small Arms Survey, UNICRI, Save the Children.

RESEARCH PROJECTS

Transcrime has carried out more than 150 research projects, mostly as coordinator. Most of these studies have been funded by: national authorities, European and international institutions, the Horizon 2020 programme and Horizon Europe programmes, European Commission - DG Home Affairs, Italian Home Office, Regione Trentino, Regione Lombardia.

05. EDUCATION - TRAINING

MASTER COURSES

Ph.D. candidates will attend Master courses aimed at completing and strengthening the candidates' background (1st year candidates). The necessary course work to be carried out is defined upon admission to the Programme. Course work is defined in accordance with each candidate's curriculum. Master courses will include a final examination. Additionally, Ph.D. candidates will prepare a paper (in English) on a topic agreed upon with the Professor of the course(s). Graduate courses may include:

- Statistics and advanced statistics
- Criminal law and procedure (Italian and comparative)
- Methodology of criminological research
- Criminology and Applied Criminology

RESEARCH AND METHODOLOGICAL TRAINING

Ph.D. candidates will attend specific training activities providing specialized training (1st and 2nd year candidates). Transcrime holds short and long seminars, attended also by Ph.D. candidates

PH.D. COURSES

Ph.D. candidates will attend courses specifically organised for the Ph.D. programme aimed at providing in-depth knowledge of specific topics (1st and 2nd year candidates). They may also attend courses organised in collaboration with other universities.

DOCTORAL TRAINING

Università Cattolica provides a number of training activities for Ph.D. candidates of all programs. They include training on methodology, bibliographic, writing, presentation, public speaking and English for academic puposes.

READING LISTS

Ph.D. candidates, under the guidance of senior researchers, will complete a literature review(s) on a specific topic relating to the candidate's research interests (1st year candidates).

05. EDUCATION - TRAINING

LECTURES

Ph.D. candidates will attend intensive lectures by visiting professors from leading foreign and national universities. Visiting professors will give lectures on innovative issues in criminology and criminal justice. Here below are some examples of past lectures given by visiting professors to students attending recent Ph.D. cycles:

Combining data and community resources to reduce crime at risky places
Prof. Joel Caplan, Rutgers University - Newark
Corruption in public procurment
Dr. Joras Ferwerda, Utrecht University

Prof. William Moreto, University of Central Florida

05. EDUCATION - RESEARCH

PARTICIPATION IN RESEARCH PROJECTS

Ph.D. candidates will collaborate daily on Transcrime's on-going research projects, during which they will be given increasing project responsibilities. On reaching the 3rd year of the Programme, candidates will be expected to be able to coordinate a research project (under the supervision of Professor Savona and other senior researchers).

ARTICLE FOR A SCIENTIFIC JOURNAL

Ph.D. candidates will write a paper on a topic relating to their research interests under the supervision of the coordinator and their tutor (2nd and 3rd year candidates). Candidates are expected to submit at least one paper to an international peer reviewed journal by the end of the 2nd year.

PERIOD ABROAD

Following the Board approval, Ph.D. candidates will be able to spend a period of study and research abroad. They may choose whether to go to a foreign university or a research institution. It is also possible to spend a period abroad working in an organization dealing with crime at an international level, such as the United Nations, the World Bank, the IMF, Interpol, the Council of Europe, Eurojust, Europol, the International office of the Italian Ministry of Justice, or the Research and Documentation Centre of the Ministry of Justice of the Netherlands. Additionally, private enterprises offering scholarships may host one or more students to study topics such as business security and cybercrime.

PH.D. THESIS

Ph.D. candidates will write a Ph.D. thesis to complete the Programme. The thesis is expected to reach the standard of a publishable book, that is the standard used when acting as a referee for a refereed journal article or a book proposed to an international publisher.

05. EDUCATION - TEACHING ACTIVITIES

TUTORING

Ph.D. candidates may tutor students from the BA and the MA programmes of the Faculty of Political and Social Sciences at the Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore of Milan. This will include assisting course professors with class management, assignments, examinations, and marking.
Ph.D. candidates may also tutor students in writing their final dissertations. This will include coaching students and correcting documents in collaboration with course professors.

WORKSHOPS AND SEMINARS

Ph.D. candidates may hold workshops and seminars for students on the BA and the MA programmes of the Faculty of Political and Social sciences at the Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore of Milan (2nd and 3rd year candidates).
These activities will cover research and writing skills, along with specific seminars on a topic related to the candidate's research interests.

06. STUDY COURSE

1st YEAR

RESEARCH PROJECT FORMULATION

By the end of the first year, Ph.D. candidates are expected to have delivered: an activity report, a research project and a paper addressing the topic of their Ph.D. thesis.
In particular they will be required to: select a topic and a literature review, identify knowledge gaps and one or more research issues on which to focus; deliver a presentation of the research topic.

Ph.D. candidates will be required to defend their research project and topic formulation before the Academic Board. The Academic Board will decide on a candidate's admission to the second year of the Programme.

2nd YEAR

RESEARCH PROJECT AND SCIENTIFIC PAPER

Ph.D. candidates will further advance their research through reports, which will be discussed individually or in a seminar format every two months. By the end of the second year Ph.D. candidates will have delivered: an activity report, a research project, a draft of the first two chapters of the thesis, and a paper approved by an international peer reviewed journal. The paper should ideally address the topic of the candidate's thesis.

Ph.D. candidates will be required to defend their research project and paper before the Academic Board. The Academic Board will decide on a candidate's admission to the third year of the Programme.

3rd YEAR

COMPLETION OF THE PH.D. THESIS

Ph.D. candidates will complete their research and finalize their Ph.D. thesis. The state of a candidate's advancement through the process will be assessed in periodic meetings. By the end of the third year, Ph.D. candidates will have delivered: an activity report and a draft of the final Ph.D. thesis. Admission to the final examination will follow a procedure ensuring the high quality of the Ph.D. thesis and research. The draft of the final thesis will be assessed by the candidate's tutor and two other external referees with competence in the thesis topic. The thesis must attain the standard of a publishable paper or book. On the basis of the judgement of the tutor and external referees, the Academic Board will decide whether or not to recommend that the candidate submits the thesis to the Examination Commission for the final examination.

06.

FINAL DEFENSE

MEMBERS OF PREVIOUS COMMISSIONS

STUDY COURSE

The final defense will be held before a commission composed of at least three professors from Italian and foreign universities, two of which are not members of the Academic Board. The defense, public and entirely in English, includes the presentation of the research and of the results by the candidate and questions by the commissioners. The commission will award the title of Ph.D. in Criminology to candidates authoring innovative studies of high quality at the international level.

07. ADMISSION

INFORMAL PRE-APPLICATION

It is possible to participate in an informal pre-application procedure at any moment of the year by sending an email to the Coordinator of the Ph.D. (Prof. Francesco Calderoni, francesco.calderoni@unicatt.it) and attaching an English CV. Afterwards, the candidate may be invited to submit a research proposal in English and to participate in a phone or Skype interview to discuss the proposal.

The candidate will receive an evaluation from the Coordinator with two possible results:

a) positive assessment, exempting the candidate from sending a research proposal and participating in the interview after the publication of call for applications. The candidate will formalize his/her application, after the publication of the call, by sending the requested documentation at the following link: https://dottorati.unicatt.it/criminologia

b) negative assessment, allowing to submit a formal application after having substantially revised the research proposal during the formal application period.

The informal pre-application procedure is accessible all year long, except during the period immediately before the publication of the official call for applications and until the deadline for applications is expired.

FORMAL APPLICATION

The official call for applications (in English and Italian) is usually published in June-July at the webpage of the Ph.D. Office (http://milano.unicatt.it/dottorati-bandi). The deadline for applications is usually between mid-August and mid-September. The selection is usually completed by the end of September.
Candidates must fill the application form available (after the publication of the call for applications) at:
http://milano.unicatt.it/dottorati-bandi.
All the documents must be uploaded with the application in PDF format at the following link:
https://progetti.unicatt.it/progetti-ateneo-dottorati-iniziare-un-dottorato#content, within the deadline indicated in the call for applications.

RESEARCH PROPOSAL

Each candidate must send a research proposal in English for his/her Ph.D. thesis. The proposal should be divided in the following sections:

- review of the state-of-the-art;
- research problem and questions;
- objectives and methodology;
- expected results and possible limitations;
- reference list.

The research proposal must not exceed 20 thousand characters (bibliography included).

07. ADMISSION

THE EVALUATION

The evaluation for the admission to the Ph.D. is based on (also for candidates with a positive assessment in the pre-application procedure):

a) curriculum vitae and other titles
b) research proposal
c) phone or video (e.g. via Skype) interview

The assessment is based on a 0 to 70-point scale according to the following criteria:

- Points a) and b) may receive between 0 and 20 points each. Only candidates totalling at least 30 points are admitted to the interview. The results of the assessment of points a) and b) are communicated to the candidate by email along with the possible interview invitation within 20 days from the expiry of the call for applications.
- Point c) may receive between 0 and 30 points. The interview must be in English and will aim at discussing the candidate's motivation and research proposal, as well as providing an answer to any questions the candidate may have. Only candidates receiving at least 20 points may be admitted to the Ph.D.

The final ranking is given by the sum of the scores achieved in points a), b), and c). Candidates are admitted according to the ranking, up to the number of available positions.

SCOLARSHIPS

According to the Italian Ministry of Education, the amount of the base-level scholarship will be €15,343.28 gross per year. Ph.D. scholarships are tax-exempt but require the payment of social security contributions.

To acknowledge the candidates' cooperation with Transcrime's activities, 1st year candidates may receive an additional yearly scholarship up to about €2,500 gross. Second and third year candidates may receive an additional yearly scholarship of about €4,600 gross. The additional scholarship will be attributed for each month of collaboration with Transcrime. This additional fee will be recalculated if the base-level scholarship, established in accordance with the law, is updated.
The base-level scholarship is increased by 50% for periods abroad. Starting from the second year, candidates will have a budget for research expenses in the amount of 10% of the annual base-level scholarship.
To favour the international scope of the Ph.D., the admitted candidates with a Master Degree from a foreign university and residing abroad and those who hold a Master Degree from a foreign university may be refunded up to € 5,000 for documented travel and lodging expenses incurred during the 1st year of Ph.D. due to their moving to Milan.

ADMISSION FEES

Every year, the Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore sets the annual amount of the tuition fees.
For the XXXVIII cycle of the International Ph.D. in Criminology, Ph.D candidates are required to pay a tuition fee amounting to about € 1,500 per year, to be paid in three installments.

09.

WHAT OUR PH.D. SAY

GIAN MARIA CAMPEDELLI

Postdoctoral Research Fellow - Università di Trento

"The PhD in Criminology allowed me to foster my scientific curiosity, and it helped me significantly in my professional growth. The collaboration in international projects, the participation in teaching activities and the continuous exchange of ideas with peers and senior researchers, all testify to the many opportunities that this experience offered me."

SERENA FAVARIN

Assistant Professor - Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore di Milano

"During my PhD, I had the possibility to work on many research projects on different topics with highly qualified partners from several universities and attend seminars with professors from all over the world."

ALEXANDER KAMPRAD

Postdoctoral Research Fellow, Harvard University (United States)

"I had the chance to engage with criminology scholars from various countries and to spend several months as a visiting researcher in Russia."

MARTINA MARCHESI

Account Development Manager - Springer Nature Group

"The International Ph.D. in Criminology gave me the opportunity to learn an effective working method and to develop my organizational and management skills thanks to the involvement in several national and international projects."

10. SAVE THE DATE

ALL YEAR LONG

It is possible to participate in an informal pre-application procedure by sending CV to the Coordinator of the Ph.D. (Prof. Francesco Calderoni, francesco.calderoni@unicatt.it).
The Coordinator may invite potential candidates to submit and research proposal (see above section 7) and eventually to participate in an online interview to discuss the proposal.

The positive evaluation of the informal pre-application procedure exempts the candidate from sending a research proposal and participating in the interview after the publication of call for applications. In this case, candidates may only submit the application form and the related documentation.

JUNE

The call for applications is published in the Ph.D. section on the website of the Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore.
The application deadline is on the 23rd of August.

Candidates should send all the documents requested in the call for applications within the deadline.

SEPTEMBER

Result of the evaluation of curriculum vitae and research proposal:
by the 2nd of September 2022

Online interviews:
8th of September 2022 - h. 15:00
9th of September 2022 - h. 10:00

Official ranking of the PhD candidates:
Published on the 15th of September 2022
