International Ph.D. in Criminology

Cycle XXXIX

01.

WHO WE ARE

VISION

The International Ph.D. Programme in Criminology aims to be the preferred Programme for highly qualified students pursuing an advanced research degree in Criminology. The Programme views interdisciplinary work and research as the core of its activity. Its aim is to promote innovative and dynamic thinking by blending theory and practice in the fields of criminology, criminal justice, and crime prevention.

MISSION

The Ph.D. prepares graduates to meet traditional and emerging standards of excellence in criminology. This is achieved through a training, research, and teaching Programme. Graduates of the Programme will be well-prepared to pursue diverse career paths, including academia, research, law enforcement, international organizations, industry, and consulting.

TRANSCRIME

Transcrime, the Joint Research Centre on Innovation and Crime of the Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore of Milan (www.transcrime.it/en), offers an integrated group of strengths and capabilities in criminology and criminal justice. Ph.D. candidates will have the opportunity to carry out their assignments in a stimulating environment enriched by the participation of outstanding lecturers with leading roles in academia, institutions, law enforcement agencies, and businesses renowned at a national, European and international level.

Its excellence in research is proved by the consistent international funding in this area (projects under the 6th and the 7th Framework Programme, Horizon 2020, Horizon Europe, and DG Home Affairs).

Today, Transcrime has become a leading international institution for scholars exploring crime from a range of perspectives, including criminology, sociology, law, and economics. Through agreements with affiliated universities and members of the Academic Board, the center provides opportunities for specialized research and promising avenues for pursuing careers that require advanced expertise in this field.

STRENGTHS OF THE PH.D.

INTERNATIONAL PROFESSORS AND RESEARCHERS

The members of the Academic Board who lecture and tutor in the Ph.D. Programme are key international professors and researchers in criminology and related disciplines.

PRIVATE AND PUBLIC FUNDINGS

In addition to the scholarships awarded by universities, the Ph.D. Programme in Criminology has always received fundings from:

- Private companies, such as ADT, Crime&tech, Eni Corporate University, Gucci, Philip Morris International, Pirelli, TIM and Telecom Italia
- Associated universities, such as the University of Teramo
- Public institutions, such as the High Commission for the Struggle against Counterfeiting, Regione Lombardia, and the autonomous Province of Trento

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

Candidates awarded the International Ph.D. in Criminology can access to career opportunities in the academic world, public and private sector, NGOs and international organizations. International Ph.D. in Criminology graduates are currently working at: University of Cardiff, University of Surrey, UNIL-Université de Lausanne, Università degli Studi Milano-Bicocca, Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore di Milano, Italian Government, Università degli Studi di Trento, United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime, European Commission, Eurojust, Louis Vuitton, PWC, SNAM, Small Arms Survey, UNICRI, Save the Children.

04.

STRENGTHS OF THE PH.D.

WORK IN A THRIVING RESEARCH CENTRE

INTERNATIONAL EXPERIENCE

Candidates awarded Ph.D. scholarships will collaborate in the management and organization of the Transcrime's projects and research activities, along with a staff of more than 25 members. In the last decades, Transcrime has carried out more than 150 research projects, mostly as coordinator, funded by local, national and international authorities and institutions, such as the European Commission through Horizon 2020, Horizon Europe and DG Home Affairs programmes, Italian Home Office, Regione Trentino, Regione Lombardia, as well as private organizations.

All the activities of the Ph.D. are in English. This includes lectures, seminars, the Ph.D. thesis and the final defense.

As part of our Programme, Ph.D. candidates will have the opportunity to broaden their academic experience by spending a semester of studies and research at a foreign university or research institution. Upon successful conclusion of the period abroad in one of the partner universities, Ph.D. candidates may be recognized with the title of Doctor Europaeus.

Some of the institutions that hosted our students in recent years are: Carnegie Mellon University, European University Saint Petersburg, the United Nations, World Bank, Interpol, Europol, George Mason University, Organization of American States, New York University, University of California, University of Colorado Boulder, University of Maryland, University of South Florida, Leiden University, and Vrije Universiteit.

EDUCATION - TRAINING

MASTER COURSES

Ph.D. candidates will attend Master's courses aimed at completing and strengthening their background (1st year candidates). The required coursework is determined upon admission to the Programme and tailored to each candidate's curriculum. Master's courses culminate in a final examination. Additionally, Ph.D. candidates will prepare a paper (in English) on a topic agreed upon with the Professor of the course(s).

Graduate courses may include:

- Statistics and advanced statistics
- Criminal law and procedure (Italian and comparative)
- Methodology of criminological research
- Criminology and applied criminology

RESEARCH AND METHODOLOGICAL TRAINING

Ph.D. candidates will attend specific training activities (1st and 2nd year candidates). Transcrime holds short and long seminars, which are also attended by Ph.D. candidates.

PH.D. COURSES

Ph.D. candidates will attend courses specifically organised for the Ph.D. Programme, aimed at providing in-depth knowledge of specific topics (1st and 2nd year candidates). They may also attend courses organised in collaboration with other universities.

DOCTORAL TRAINING

Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore provides a number of training activities for Ph.D. candidates from all Programmes. They include training on methodology, bibliographic, writing, presentation, public speaking and English for academic purposes.

LITERATURE REVIEW

In their first year, Ph.D. candidates will work under the guidance of senior researchers to complete a literature review (or reviews) on a specific topic related to the candidate's research interests.

05

LECTURES

EDUCATION - TRAINING

Ph.D. candidates will attend intensive lectures on innovative issues in criminology and criminal justice, given by visiting professors from leading foreign and national universities. Here below are some examples of past lectures in recent Ph.D. cycles:

- ▶ Combining data and community resources to reduce crime at risky places
Prof. Joel Caplan, Rutgers University - Newark
- ▶ Economics of organized crime
Prof. Paolo Buonanno, Università degli Studi di Bergamo
- ▶ Emergence of Swedish Gangs
Prof. Manne Gerell, Malmö University
- ▶ Firearms and firearms-control policies
Prof. Philip Cook, Stanford School of Public Policy
- ▶ Green criminology
Prof. Toine Spapens, Tilburg University
- ▶ Innovative sources of data in criminology
Dr. Reka Solymosi, University of Manchester
- ▶ Life course criminology
Prof. Arijan Blokland, NSCR
- ▶ Mafias abroad / Human Smuggling
Dr. Paolo Campana, University of Cambridge
- ▶ Money-laundering, Drug policy and Organized Crime
Prof. Peter Reuter, University of Maryland
- ▶ 'Ndrangheta outside Italy
Prof. Anna Sergi, University of Essex
- ▶ Network adaptation
Dr. Giulia Berlusconi, University of Surrey
- ▶ Organised crime and qualitative methodologies
Prof. Dina Siegel, Utrecht University
- ▶ Problem Oriented Policing: origins, development, evidence
Prof. Aiden Sidebottom, UCL Jill Dando Institute of Security and Crime Science
- ▶ Risk Terrain Modeling
Prof. Leslie Kennedy, Rutgers University - Newark
- ▶ The datafication revolution in criminal justice
Prof. Anita Lavorgna, University of Southampton
- ▶ Wildlife crime, wildlife law enforcement, and wildlife crime/harm prevention
Prof. William Moreto, University of Central Florida

05.

EDUCATION - RESEARCH

PARTICIPATION IN RESEARCH PROJECTS

Ph.D. candidates will collaborate daily on Transcrime's ongoing research projects, gradually assuming increasing project responsibilities. On reaching the 3rd year of the Programme, candidates will be expected to coordinate a research project (under the supervision of Professor Savona and other senior researchers).

ARTICLE FOR A SCIENTIFIC JOURNAL

Ph.D. candidates will write a paper on a topic related to their research interests under the supervision of the coordinator and their tutor (2nd and 3rd year candidates). Candidates are expected to submit at least one paper to an international peer reviewed journal by the end of the 2nd year.

PH.D. THESIS

Ph.D. candidates will write a Ph.D. thesis to complete the Programme. The thesis is expected to reach the standard of a publishable book, that is the standard used when acting as a referee for a refereed journal article or a book proposed to an international publisher.

PERIOD ABROAD

Upon approval from the Board, Ph.D. candidates may spend a period of study and research abroad. They may choose whether to go to a foreign university, a research institution, or to work in an international organization dealing with crime. Additionally, private enterprises offering scholarships may host one or more students to study topics such as business security and cybercrime.

TEACHING ACTIVITIES

TUTORING

Ph.D. candidates may tutor students from the BA and the MA programmes of the Faculty of Political and Social Sciences at the Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore of Milan. This will include assisting course professors with class management, assignments, examinations, and marking.

Ph.D. candidates may also tutor students in writing their final dissertations. This will include coaching students and correcting documents in collaboration with course professors.

WORKSHOPS AND SEMINARS

Ph.D. candidates may hold workshops and seminars for students on the BA and the MA programmes of the Faculty of Political and Social Sciences at the Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore of Milan (2nd and 3rd year candidates).

These activities will cover research and writing skills, along with specific seminars on a topic related to the candidate's research interests.

06.

STUDY COURSE

1st YEAR

RESEARCH PROJECT FORMULATION

By the end of the first year, Ph.D. candidates will deliver: an activity report, the research project for their Ph.D. thesis, and the first draft chapter of the thesis.

In particular they will be required to select a research topic and conduct a detailed literature review, identify knowledge gaps and one or more research issues on which to focus.

Ph.D. candidates will be required to defend their research project and topic formulation before the Academic Board, for admission to the second year of the Programme.

2nd YEAR

RESEARCH PROJECT AND SCIENTIFIC PAPER

Ph.D. candidates will further advance their research through reports, which will be discussed individually or in a seminar format every two months. By the end of the second year, Ph.D. candidates will have delivered: an activity report, a research project, a draft of the first two chapters of the thesis, and a paper approved by an international peer reviewed journal. The paper should ideally address the topic of the candidate's thesis.

Ph.D. candidates will be required to defend their research project and paper before the Academic Board for admission to the third year of the Programme.

3rd YEAR

COMPLETION OF THE PH.D. THESIS

Ph.D. candidates will carry out their research and complete their Ph.D. thesis. The candidate's progress will be evaluated through periodic meetings. By the end of their third year, candidates must submit an activity report and a draft of their final thesis. The admission to the final examination will follow a procedure designed to ensure the high quality of the thesis and research. The draft thesis will be evaluated by the candidate's advisor and two external referees with expertise in the thesis topic. The thesis must meet the standard of a publishable paper or book. Based on the evaluations of the advisor and external referees, the Academic Board will decide whether to recommend that the candidate submits the thesis to the Examination Commission for the final examination.

STUDY COURSE RESEARCH PROPOSAL

The purpose of your research proposal is to demonstrate your knowledge of the field, identify research gaps, and propose suitable methods to address those gaps. Preparing a doctoral research proposal for the International Ph.D. in Criminology requires careful consideration of various elements. Here are some suggestions to help you create a comprehensive and well-structured research proposal:

REVIEW THE STATE-OF-THE-ART:

- Start by conducting a thorough literature review of the current scientific research in the field of criminology, specifically focusing on your area of interest.
- Identify key theories, concepts, and empirical studies that have contributed to the understanding of the topic.
- Highlight relevant research gaps or unanswered questions that you have identified during the literature review.

DEFINE THE RESEARCH PROBLEM AND QUESTIONS:

- Clearly state the research problem or issue you intend to address in your study.
- Formulate research questions that are specific, focused, and aligned with the research problem.
- Your research questions should be designed to fill the identified research gaps and contribute to the existing knowledge in the field.

ESTABLISH OBJECTIVES AND METHODOLOGY:

- Outline the objectives of your research, explaining what you aim to achieve with your study.
- Describe the methodology you intend to use to address your research questions and achieve your objectives.
- Clearly specify the research design, data collection methods, and analysis techniques you plan to employ.
- Justify the appropriateness of your chosen methods in relation to the research problem and questions.

06

STUDY COURSE RESEARCH PROPOSAL

DISCUSS EXPECTED RESULTS AND POSSIBLE LIMITATIONS:

- Provide an overview of the expected outcomes of your research.
- Explain how your study will contribute to the field of criminology and address the identified research gaps.
- Acknowledge and discuss potential limitations or challenges that you may encounter during the research process.
- Demonstrate awareness of any constraints or ethical considerations relevant to your proposed research.

INCLUDE A REFERENCE LIST:

- Compile a comprehensive reference list of all the sources cited in your research proposal.
- Follow the appropriate referencing style such as APA, ASA, or Chicago.

GENERAL TIPS:

- Ensure that your research proposal is well-organized, coherent, and easy to follow.
- Use clear and concise language to convey your ideas.
- Seek feedback from your advisor or colleagues to improve the clarity and quality of your proposal.
- Pay attention to formatting and presentation, including headings, subheadings, and consistent citation style.

Tailor your proposal to align with the specific requirements and expectations of the International Ph.D. in Criminology program. You can get an idea of possible topics of interest from the publications and webpages of the members of the Academic Board, from previously completed Ph.D. dissertations available on the Docta Archive of Università Cattolica and from the research projects conducted at Transcrime.

FINAL DEFENSE

MEMBERS OF PREVIOUS COMMISSIONS

STUDY COURSE

The final defense will be held before a commission composed of at least three professors from Italian and foreign universities, two of which are not members of the Academic Board. The defense, public and entirely in English, will include the presentation of the candidate's research and results followed by questions of the commissioners. The commission will award the title of Ph.D. in Criminology to candidates authoring innovative and high-quality studies at an international level.

INFORMAL PRE-APPLICATION

FORMAL APPLICATION

RESEARCH PROPOSAL

ADMISSION

It is possible to participate in an informal pre-application procedure at any moment of the year by sending an email to the Coordinator of the Ph.D. (Prof. Francesco Calderoni, francesco.calderoni@unicatt.it) and attaching an English CV. Afterwards, the candidate may be invited to submit a research proposal in English and to participate in a phone or Skype interview to discuss the proposal.

The candidate will receive an evaluation from the Coordinator with two possible results:

- a) positive assessment, exempting the candidate from sending a research proposal and participating in the interview after the publication of call for applications. The candidate will formalize his/her application, after the publication of the call, by sending the requested documentation at the following link: <https://dottorati.unicatt.it/criminologia>.
- b) negative assessment, allowing to submit a formal application after having substantially revised the research proposal during the formal application period.

The informal pre-application procedure is accessible all year long, except during the period immediately before the publication of the official call for applications and until the deadline for applications is expired.

The official call for applications (in English and Italian) is usually published in June-July on the webpage of the Ph.D. Office (<https://progetti.unicatt.it/progetti-ateneo-bandi-e-concorsi-milano-piacenza-brescia#content>).

The deadline for applications is 4 September.

The selection is usually completed by the end of September.

Candidates must fill the application form available (after the publication of the call for applications) at:

<https://progetti.unicatt.it/progetti-ateneo-bandi-e-concorsi-milano-piacenza-brescia#content>.

All the documents must be uploaded afterwards in the personal restricted area.

Each candidate must submit a research proposal in English for his/her Ph.D. thesis. The proposal should be divided in the following sections:

- review of the state-of-the-art
- research problem and questions
- objectives and methodology
- expected results and possible limitations
- reference list

The research proposal must not exceed 20,000 characters (bibliography included).

07

THE EVALUATION

SCOLARSHIPS

ADMISSION FEES

ADMISSION

The evaluation for admission to the Ph.D. is based on the following criteria (also for candidates with a positive assessment in the pre-application procedure):

- a) curriculum vitae and other titles
- b) research proposal
- c) phone or video (e.g. via Skype) interview

The assessment is based on a 0 to 70-point scale according to the following criteria:

- Points a) and b) can receive a score between 0 and 20 points each. Only candidates totalling at least 30 points are admitted to the interview.

The results of the assessment of points a) and b) are communicated to the candidate by email along with the possible interview invitation within 20 days from the expiry of the call for applications.

- Point c) can receive a score between 0 and 30 points. The interview must be conducted in English and will aim at discussing the candidate's motivation and research proposal, as well as providing an answer to any questions the candidate may have. Only candidates receiving at least 20 points may be admitted to the Ph.D.

The final ranking is determined by the sum of the scores achieved in points a), b), and c). Candidates are admitted according to the ranking, up to the number of available positions.

According to the Italian Ministry of Education, the base-level scholarship amount is €15,343.28 gross per year. Ph.D. scholarships are tax-exempt but require the payment of social security contributions.

To acknowledge the candidates' cooperation with Transcrime's activities, 1st year candidates may receive an additional yearly scholarship of up to about €2,500 gross. Second and third-year candidates may receive an additional yearly scholarship of about €4,600 gross. The additional scholarship will be awarded for each month of collaboration with Transcrime. This additional fee will be recalculated if the base-level scholarship, established in accordance with the law, is updated.

The base-level scholarship is increased by 50% for periods abroad. Starting from the second year, candidates will have a research expenses budget amounting to 10% of the annual base-level scholarship.

To promote the international scope of the Ph.D., the admitted candidates with a Master's Degree from a foreign university and residing abroad and those who hold a Master's Degree from a foreign university may be refunded up to € 5,000 for documented travel and lodging expenses incurred during the 1st year of the Ph.D. due to their moving to Milan.

Every year, the Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore sets the annual amount of the tuition fees.

For the XXXIX cycle of the International Ph.D. in Criminology, Ph.D. candidates will be required to pay a tuition fee amounting to about € 1,500 per year, to be paid in three installments.

WHAT OUR PH.D.s SAY

“ My Ph.D. experience was an especially fruitful one, from developing an original research thesis on darknet drug dealing, to managing European level project proposals on range of topics, I was lucky enough to be exposed to a variety of activities for expanding my capacities as a criminologist. ”

“ The Ph.D. in Criminology allowed me to foster my scientific curiosity, and it helped me significantly in my professional growth. The collaboration in international projects, the participation in teaching activities and the continuous exchange of ideas with peers and senior researchers, all testify to the many opportunities that this experience offered me. ”

“ I had the chance to engage with criminology scholars from various countries and to spend several months as a visiting researcher in Russia. ”

“ The International Ph.D. in Criminology gave me the opportunity to learn an effective working method and to develop my organizational and management skills thanks to the involvement in several national and international projects. ”

10.

SAVE THE DATE

ALL YEAR LONG

It is possible to participate in an informal pre-application procedure by sending a CV to the Ph.D. Coordinator (Prof. Francesco Calderoni, francesco.calderoni@unicatt.it).

The Coordinator may invite potential candidates to submit a research proposal (see section 7, page 12 above) and eventually to participate in an online interview to discuss the proposal.

A positive evaluation of the informal pre-application procedure exempts the candidate from submitting a research proposal and participating in the interview after the publication of the call for applications. In this case, candidates may only submit the application form and the related documentation.

SEPTEMBER

The call for applications is published on the website of the Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore in the Ph.D. section. The deadline for applications is 4 September.

Candidates should send all the documents requested in the call for applications within the deadline.

The following steps will take place in September:

- Result of the evaluation of curriculum vitae and research
- Online interviews
- Official ranking of the Ph.D. candidates
